ALMA MATER

O hail to thee, our Jefferson,
We raise this song to thee;
The mem'ries dear that linger here
Are bound with loyalty.
O hail to thee, our Jefferson,
This joyful lay now hear;
Within thy walls, thy hallowed halls,
Our praises still ring clear.

O hail to thee, dear Jefferson,
Our hearts, our thoughts, are true;
This solemn vow is given now,
A pledge of love to you.
Though fate may draw us far away
And other duties call,
The friendships gained will be retained
To bind and hold us all.

"GREATER THINGS ARE YET TO COME"

" I am a part of all that I have met;

Yet all experience is an arch wherethro'

Gleams that untravell'd world, whose margin fades

For ever and for ever when I move. "

from Tennyson's ULYSSES

DEDICATION

TO ALL OUR PARENTS

The Class of 1950 affectionately dedicates this yearbook to the parents of all the boys and girls who have ever attended Jefferson High School. We forgive them now the strong hand that directed us toward school for four long years. We overlook the stern word that sometimes took the teacher's part against us. We forget the battle of the books as it was waged at home. For we are beginning to understand what they knew all along - that education is worth working for and worth cherishing - a key to open many doors, a bulwark of our democracy.

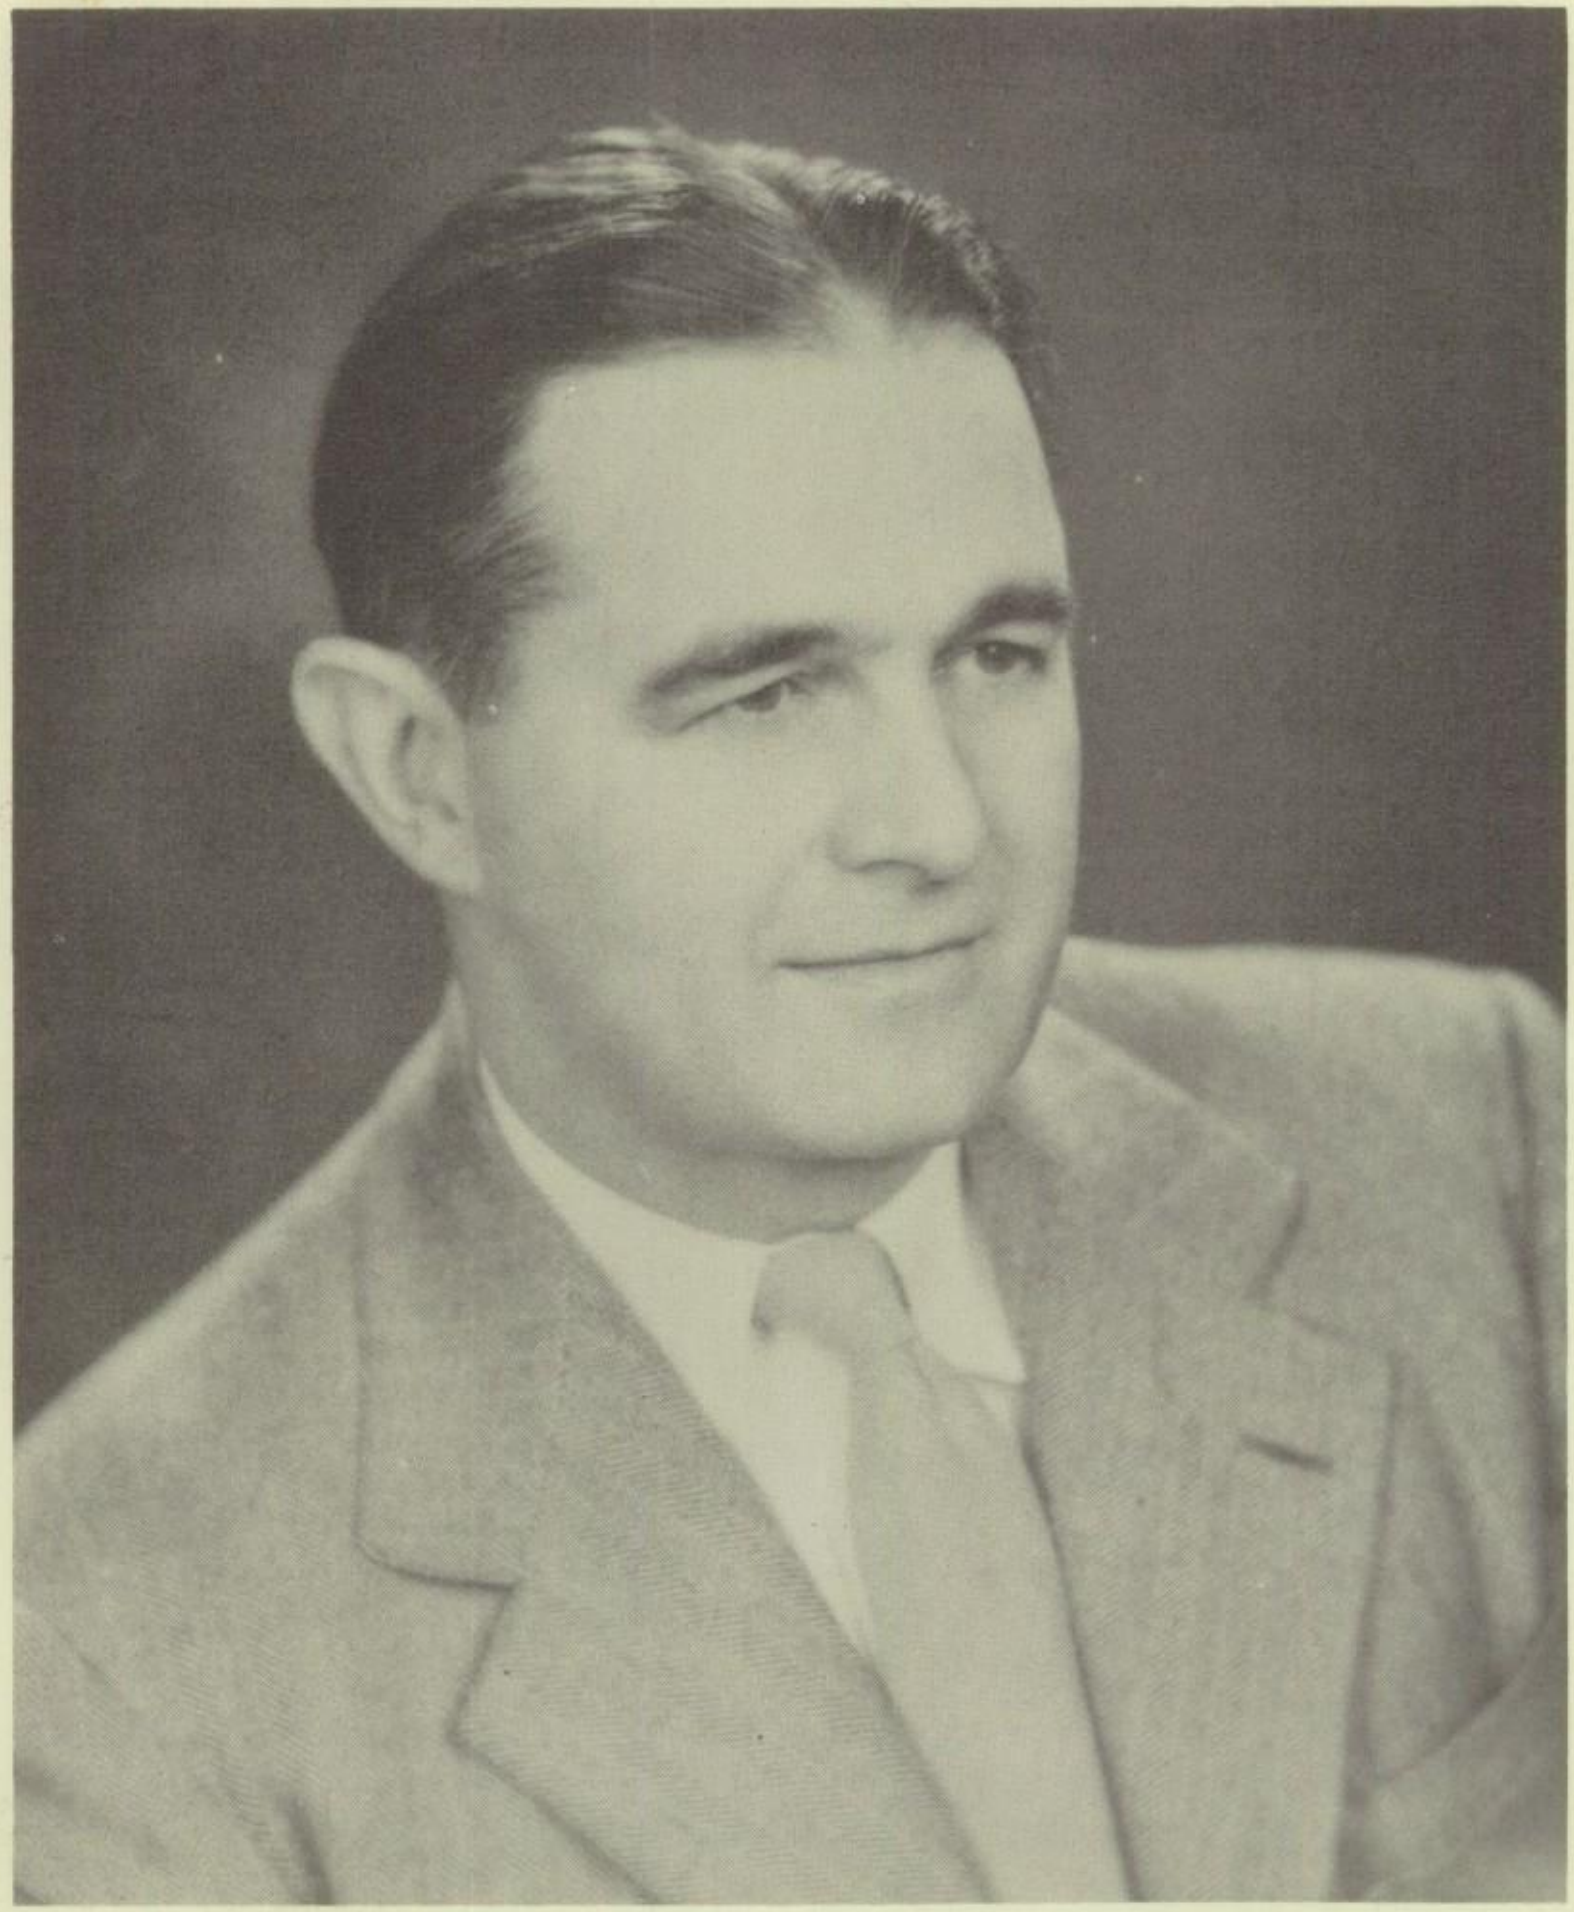
The democratic way says: "This child is capable of becoming a person. If we provide opportunities, he will come to care for and to prize some of the objects and activities with which he is surrounded, and he will learn to act with the purpose of securing more of whatever he comes to care about. He will try to make of his country the kind of place in which he wants to live, and in which he wants his friends and neighbors to live. He will learn to make himself count in the creation of the values that direct our society; and in so doing he will become the person that he alone is capable of becoming. The home, the school, the church, industry, even the state itself can justify their existence only by the contribution they are able to make to the continuous development of this child, and others like him, into purposeful, self-directing people."



MR. SWIFT-PRINCIPAL

WE, the seniors of 1950, wish to express our deepest appreciation to you, Mr. Swift, for all the interest you have evidenced toward us, not only as a class but also as individuals.

Through your guidance, reluctantly accepted at times, we have met the problems of high school and have solved them successfully so that we are ready to cope with whatever the future offers.

The class of 1950 will never forget your deep concern about our welfare, your wise counsel, and your untiring inspiration.

You have praised our successes, sympathized with our failures, you have stimulated us to greater efforts. You have made us realize that at the end of our high school life we need to be ready for the "Greater Things Yet To Come."

ADMINISTRATION

To the Administrators go the Seniors' deepest thanks for all your helpful guidance.

FACULTY TEA

WE seniors certainly do appreciate the assistance that we receive from our friends in the office. We extend our sincerest gratitude to them for helping to conduct us through our many difficulties.

FACULTY FAREWELL

Our seniors all, the hour is near,
When you must leave our halls,
Far forth to go to other fields,
To answer duty's calls;
Perhaps to graze in learning's fields,
Perhaps on life's hard plain,
To learn at once in early youth,
Its pleasures and its pain.

For five short years you've been with us,
Your knowledge to increase,
Are passing out to other scenes
Of mingled storm and peace.
Our prayer for you is that you may
Be strengthened for your work,
And may you never tempted be,
Unpleasant tasks to shirk.

From day to day just do your task,
With heart and mind in tune,
With life's real service tune of LOVE,
To vain discords immune.
Then with success in your careers,
Above all thoughts of pelf
Will come the ringing virile truth,
Of SERVICE ABOVE SELF.

Our only hope is that we may,
Have given you some aid,
In building up one high ideal
Of duty ne'er to fade.
And thru the future years that come,
Just think of our last plea,
Do well, work hard, not selfishly,
And your reward will see.

And here's a hand, our trusty friends,
And gie's a hand o' thine.
We'll take a cup of kindness yet, for Auld-
Lang Syne.
For auld lang syne, our friends,
For auld lang syne,
We'll take a cup of kindness yet,
For auld lang syne.

ALMA MATER

O hail to thee, our Jefferson,
We raise this song to thee;
The mem'ries dear that linger here
Are bound with loyalty.
O hail to thee, our Jefferson,
This joyful lay now hear;
Within thy walls, thy hallowed halls,
Our praises still ring clear.

O hail to thee, dear Jefferson,
Our hearts, our thoughts, are true;
This solemn vow is given now,
A pledge of love to you.
Though fate may draw us far away
And other duties call,
The friendships gained will be retained
To bind and hold us all.

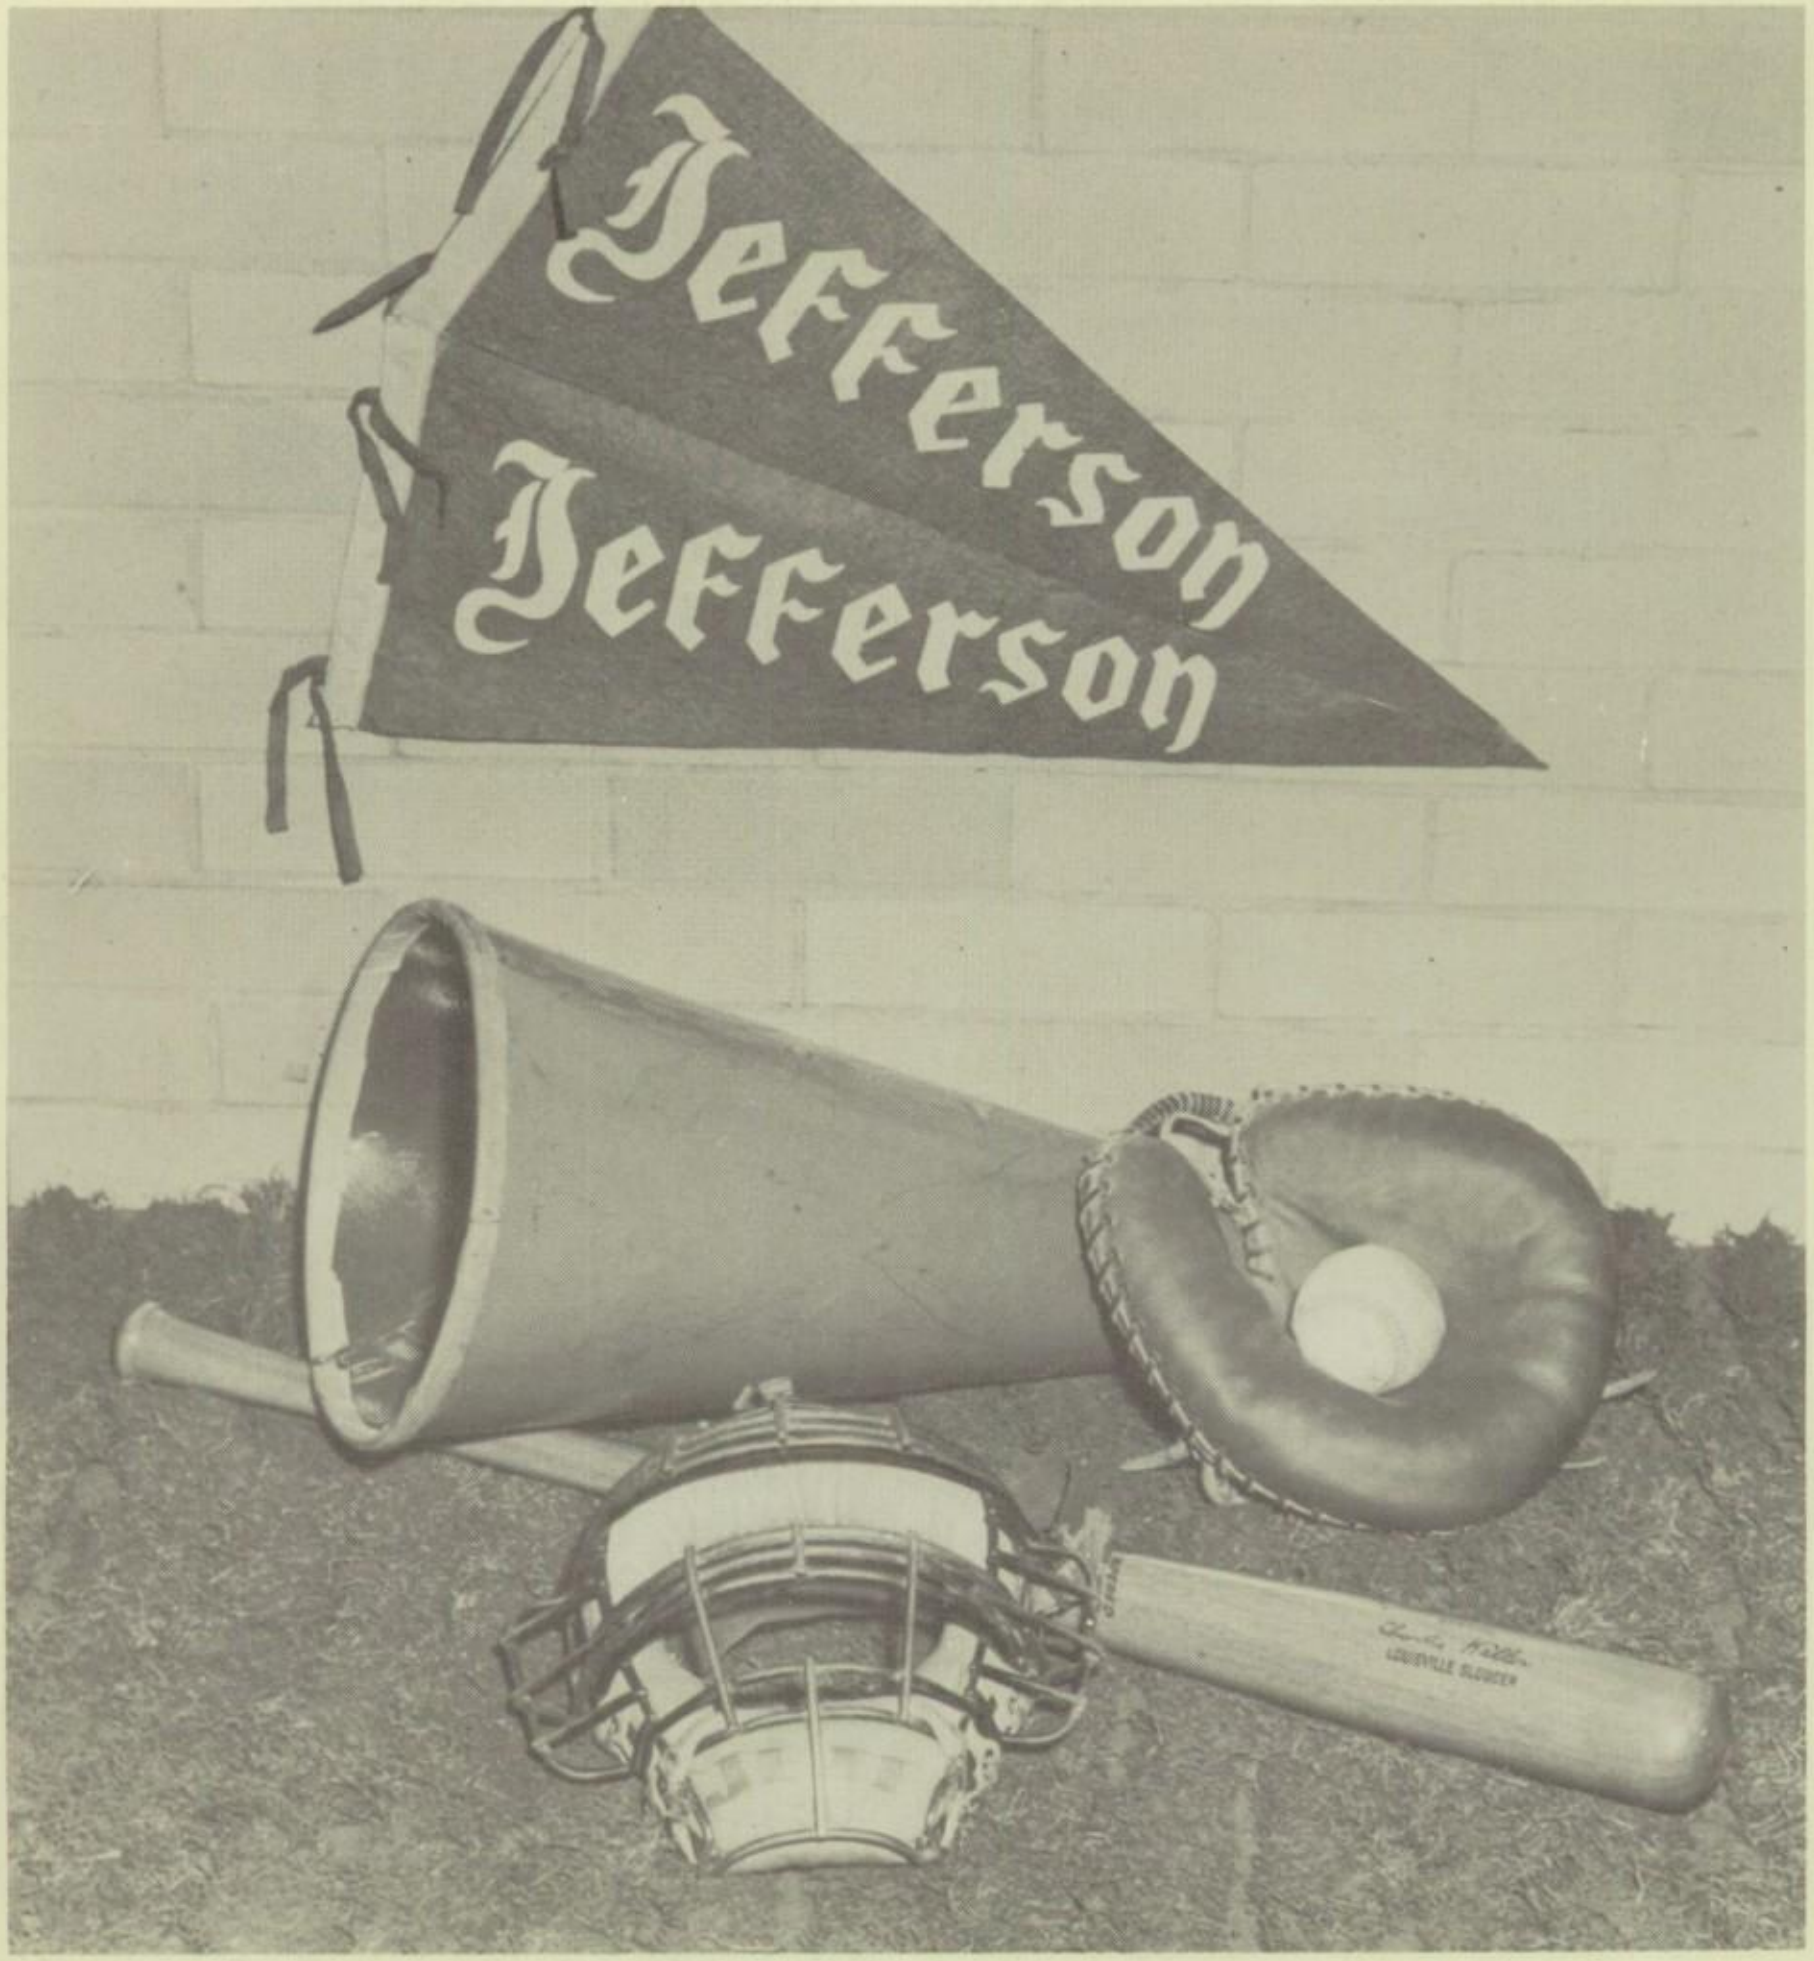
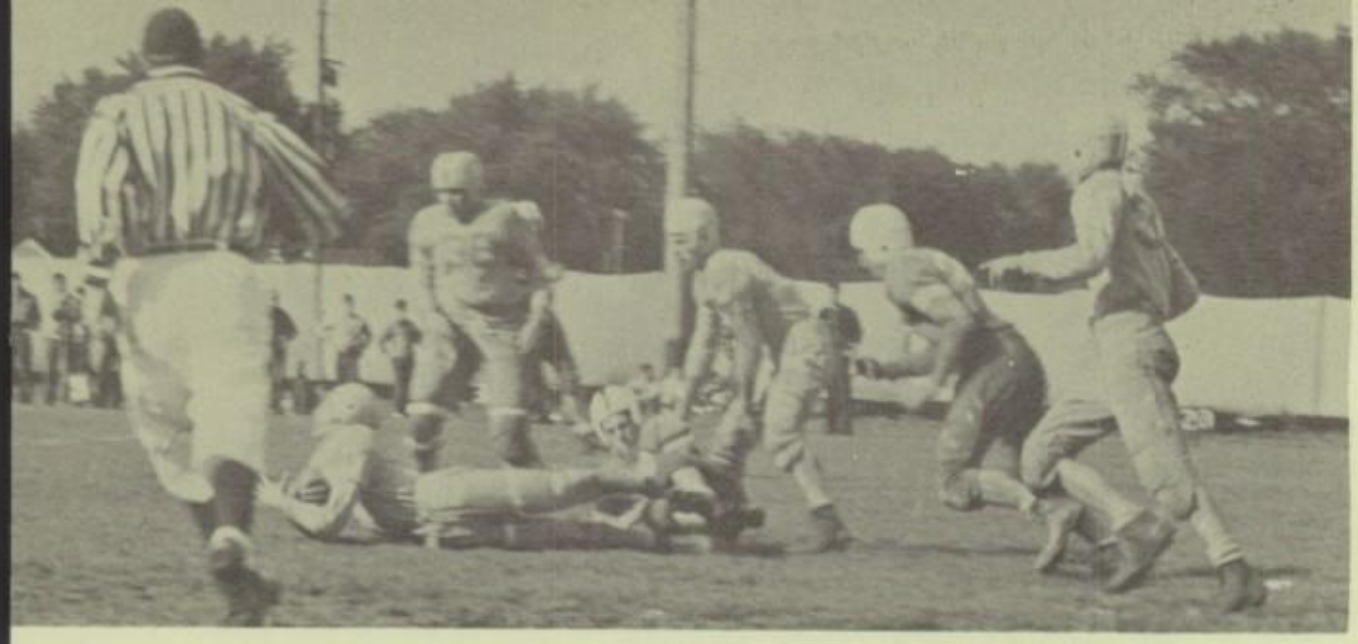
SPORTS

WE present sports----the civilized expression of man's desire to struggle against a foe.



SPORTS

THE following pages present a picture record of some of our activities while struggling through our happy high school days. While a great many participated in after-school recreation, many others took part only as spectators. We hope, whichever was the case, that you will have profited by your efforts and interest. If our athletic program has helped you to become more tolerant and fairminded, with a thought toward co-operation with your neighbor, then the hours spent in running so many miles and expending so much physical effort will not have been in vain. As the years go by may we wish future Jeff followers in sport and physical recreation, good luck, loads of fun, and many victories.



FOOTBALL

WE, of the Jefferson High School football team, were very proud of Jimmie Barberi, our tackle, named on the All-Scholastic Football Team. As a player, Jimmy stood out in sportsmanship and leadership, two characteristics necessary in a great football player.

Take me out to the ball game,
take me out to the field-----

THE Cheerleaders have been behind the Jefferson teams through victory and defeat. It has not been the Cheerleaders alone, however. The school spirit of Jefferson High has been proved by the cooperation the kids have given by yelling with the Cheerleaders.

FAREWELL

SENIORS go to different parts of the globe. Some of them will take up Uncle Sam's offer of adventure in his service. To others, college and careers beckon. Some of them will stay in Rochester, find jobs around town and settle down here. Wherever they go, whatever they do, they will always be proud of the start in life they got in Jefferson High School.

The Senior Class sincerely thanks all who have had a hand in their education, who have tried to instill in them those qualities of mind and spirit so necessary for success. Time will tell how well they have learned those important lessons but right now they just want to say they do appreciate all the hard work done by their teachers.

This year has been "Our Year." Our energies, our resources, and our courage have brought us through to this not the end but the beginning.

OUTSTANDING SENIORS

BY combining industry with intelligence, two Jeffersonians have earned special honor. Each has been attracted not only to studies but also to extra-curricular activities. Their attainments have been both social and scholastic. They have been prominent among their classmates in scholarship, leadership, service, and character. May they continue their good work with equal success in the greater game of life.

To Photographer Ralph DelConte, 12-1, whose labor early and late has made this book possible, we, the Class of 1950, give our most sincere thanks and appreciation - a job well done.
